EIB

The European Investment Bank was set up in 1958 to finance capital investment projects promoting the balanced development of members of the → EC. Outside the Union, the EIB implements the financial components of agreements concluded under European development aid and co-operation policies.

www.eib.org

EIF

The European Investment Fund is a financial institution of the EU established in 1994 as a public private partnership (ppp) bringing together the European Commission, the European Investment Bank and 77 financial institutions. Its essential business is to provide guarantees to banks and financial institutions funding investments in → TEN (Trans-European Networks) projects and → SMEs.

www.eif.org

EMCDDA

The European Monitoring Centre for Drugs and Drug Addiction, an EU agency, became operational in 1995 and published its first Annual report on the state of the drugs problem in the European Union in 1996. The mission of the Centre is to collect and disseminate “objective, reliable and comparable information” on the phenomenon of drugs and drug addiction in Europe. In order to do so, the Centre works in partnership with non-EU countries as well as with international organisations concerned by this issue. Based in Lisbon.

www.emcdda.org

EMEA

The European Agency for the Evaluation of Medicinal Products’ main responsibility is the protection of public and animal health. It works as a network, bringing together the scientific resources of the → EU and → EEA → EFTA Member States to ensure the highest level of evaluation and supervision of medicines in Europe. The Agency co-operates closely with international partners, reinforcing the EU contribution to global harmonisation. Based in London.

www.emea.eu.int

EMI

The creation of the European Monetary Institute (EMI) on 1 January 1994 marked the beginning of the second stage of → EMU (Economic and Monetary Union). The EMI was a transitional body; its mission was completed when the → European Central Bank (ECB) was established in 1998 and the final stage of EMU started.

EMS

The European Monetary System is an arrangement, organised in 1979, by which most EU members linked their currencies to prevent large fluctuations relative to one another. In 1994, the → EMI was created as a transitional step in establishing the → ECB and the common currency. In 1999, Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal, and Spain adopted a single currency, the Euro, for foreign exchange and electronic payments. (Greece subsequently also adopted the Euro.) Euro coins and notes were introduced into circulation in January 2002, and local currencies were no longer accepted as legal tender two months later.

EMSA

The European Maritime Safety Agency, an EU agency, created in the aftermath of the “Erika” disaster, will contribute to the enhancement of the overall maritime safety system in the Community in order to reduce the risk of maritime accidents, marine pollution from ships and the loss of human lives at sea. It will provide technical and scientific advice to the Commission in the field of maritime safety and prevention of pollution by ships in the continuous process of updating and developing new legislation, monitoring its implementation and evaluating the effectiveness of the measures in place. Following the “Prestige” disaster severe EU-legislation has been adopted to improve maritime safety and to reduce pollution from ships. Will be based in Lisbon.

EMU

Formally adopted by the EU Treaty of 1992, Economic and Monetary Union designates the zone of countries within the EU which share the same monetary policy and currency – the → EURO. EMU began on 1 January 1999, when the EURO became a legal currency and the national currencies of 11 participating countries became subdivisions of it.

EP

The European Parliament represents, as stated by the 1957 Treaty of Rome, “the people of the States brought together in the European Community”. Some 375 million European citizens in 15 countries are now involved in the process of European integration through their 626 representatives in the EP. The European Parliament, whose legitimacy derives from direct universal suffrage and is elected every five years, has steadily acquired greater influence and power through a series of treaties, particularly the 1992 Maastricht Treaty and the 1997 Amsterdam Treaty. These two treaties have transformed the European Parliament from a purely consultative assembly into a legislative parliament, exercising powers similar to those of the national parliaments. Today, the European Parliament as an equal partner with the Council of Ministers, passes the majority of European laws – laws that affect the lives of Europe’s citizens. Based in Brussels and Strasbourg.

EPA

In September 2002, the → EU and the → ACP countries officially opened negotiations on Economic Partnership Agreements under the Framework of the → Cotonou Agreement. These negotiations, which are to be concluded by 2007, aim at refining the existing trade regime. The EPA's will enable the ACP Countries to become member of → WTO and thereby progressively integrate the world markets.

EPC

European political co-operation was introduced informally in 1970 (in response to the Davignon report) and formalised by the Single European Act with effect from 1987. Its objective is consultations between the Member States in foreign policy matters. The Member States have a regard for the views of the → EP and, wherever possible, take common positions in international organisations. EPC was superseded by the common foreign and security policy → CFSP in 1993 (Maastricht Treaty).

ESCAP

The United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific is the only inter-governmental forum for all countries of the Asian and Pacific region. It gives technical support to member governments for socio-economic development.

www.unescap.org/index.html

ESCB

The European System of Central Banks is composed of the → ECB and the national central banks (NCBs) of the EU Member States. The “Eurosystem” is the term used to refer to the ECB and the NCBs of the Member States which have adopted the Euro. The NCBs of the Member States which do not participate in the Euro area are however members of the ESCB with a special status – while they are allowed to conduct their respective national monetary policies, they do not take part in the decision-making regarding the single monetary policy for the Euro area and the implementation of such decisions.

ETFAG

European Tropical Forestry Advisor Group

EU

The European Union, established on 1 January 1995, is built on an institutional system, the only one of its kind in the world. The Member States delegate sovereignty for certain matters to independent institutions which represent the interests of the Union as a whole, its member countries and its citizens. The Commission traditionally upholds the interests of the Union, while each national government is represented within the Council. The European Parliament is directly elected by citizens. Democracy and the rule of law are the cornerstones of the structure. This “institutional triangle” is flanked by two other institutions: the Court of Justice and the Court of Auditors. Five further bodies make the system complete.

EUFORIC

Europe's Forum on International Co-operation is an independent non-profit Internet platform on European development co-operation policies and related issues. Members include research organisations, NGOs, advisory groups, governmental agencies and NGO networks.

www.euforic.org

EUMC

The European Monitoring Centre on Racism and Xenophobia, an EU agency, started its activities in 1998. Its primary task is to provide the Community and its Member States with objective, reliable and comparable information and data on racism, xenophobia and anti-Semitic phenomena at the European level in order to establish measures or actions against racism and xenophobia. Based in Vienna.

www.eumc.eu.int

EU-OSHA

The European Agency for Safety and Health at Work develops, analyses and disseminates information that improves occupational safety and health (OSH) in Europe. It co-operates with other agencies involved in facilitating social dialogue, the relevant Directorate Generals of the European Commission, as well as similar organisations beyond Europe in the candidate countries. An Administrative Board on which the trade unions, employers' organisations, national governments and the European Commission are represented runs the Agency. Based in Bilbao.

FLEGT

To fulfil a commitment taken adopted in Johannesburg, the Commission adopted in May 2003 an EU Action Plan for Forest Law Enforcement, Governance and Trade (FLEGT), that sets out a package of measures linking governance reforms in producer countries with the legal framework of the internal EU market. The Action Plan involves a series of voluntary (but binding) partnerships agreements with wood-producing countries and regions. Through these partnerships, the EU and partner countries will set up a licensing scheme to ensure that all timber exports to Europe are legal. The partnerships will also encourage governance reforms in wood-producing countries, particularly to promote greater equity and transparency in association with forest harvesting operations.

FRANCOPHONIE

Established in 1970, the “Agence intergouvernementale de la Francophonie” is the leading operator of the “Organisation internationale de la Francophonie”. Currently the agency consists of 50 states and governments. It promotes multilateral co-operation, the dialogue of cultures and development.

GNP

The Gross National Product is the total US$ value of all final goods and services produced for consumption in a certain society during a particular period of time. Its fluctuations measure economic activity based on the labour and production output within a country. The figures used to assemble data include the manufacture of tangible goods such as cars, furniture, and bread, and the provision of services used in daily living such as education, health care, and auto repair. Intermediate services used in the production of the final product are not separated since they are reflected in the final price of the goods or service. The GNP includes allowances for depreciation and indirect business taxes such as those on sales and property.

GR

The term Green Revolution refers mainly to dramatic increases in cereal-grain yields in many developing countries beginning in the late 1960s, due to the use of genetically improved varieties, such as broadly adapted, short stemmed, disease-resistant wheat. Recent research responds to criticism that the GR depends on fertilizers, irrigation, and other factors that poor farmers cannot afford and that may be ecologically harmful; and that it promotes monocultures and loss of genetic diversity.

GSP

The Generalised System of Preferences is an UNCTAD initiative under which industrialised countries grant autonomous and non-reciprocal trade preferences to developing countries. The EU was the first to implement its own GSP in 1971. 179 countries are currently eligible.
